

Our state of the art Enomatic machines have given us an opportunity to offer a choice of 8 different wines by the glass, but of a much higher value than we could normally offer. This is because when the wine is dispensed, nitrogen gas is pumped in to create a blanket of inert gas protecting the wine from oxidising for at least 4 weeks...not that the wines are there for that long. This allows us to promote our favourite wines by the glass and you to taste them without committing to buying the bottle, win win.
